

DIRECTOR HINES DECLARES STEEL PRICES TOO HIGH

Refuses to Accept In- dustrial Board's Recommendation

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Director General Hines of the railroad administration which is the largest purchaser of steel in the United States refused today to accept the price readjustments arranged by the industrial board of the department of commerce in conference with representatives of the steel industry.

An effort to effect an agreement between the board and the head of the railroad administration failed, although members of the cabinet, the industrial board and representatives of the food and fuel administrations, the war trade board and the war finance corporation conferred for four hours. The conference at times grew stormy with the cabinet members finally withdrawing from an adjoining room from which they emerged with a recommendation that the question be referred to the board for further consideration. This was agreed upon.

Members of the conference were not in discussing the proceedings. Secretary Glass who called the conference refused to see newspaper men afterward and the official statement concerning the gathering was very brief. As originally issued it read:

Official Statement.
"The steel prices approved by the industrial board of the department of commerce not having been accepted by the railroad administration the views of both were expressed at the conference.

"The views of the industrial board were expressed by Secretary Redfield, Chairman Peck and other members of the board. The views of the railroad administration were expressed by Director Hines.

The matter was recommitted to the board for further consideration. The statement caused such a flurry by its intimation that the entire question of steel prices would be reopened that an amendment was added by Chairman Peck, to make the last sentence read:

"The matter was recommitted to the board for further consideration with the railroad administration."

Additional conferences will be held it was said at which the board will attempt to show the railroad administration that the prices agreed upon are not excessively high according to cost figures obtained by the federal trade commission.

Hines Expresses Views.
Director Hines has maintained that the railroad administration was entitled to its enormous purchases at prices as low as could be obtained.

Mr. Hines according to one of the officials present told the conference that the agreement on the steel prices reached by the board with the steel industry two weeks ago was made over his protest and was without warrant of law. The director general was reported as declaring that no matter what terms was applied to the work of the board in its attempt at price readjustments it was "price fixing." The Sherman anti-trust law it was said, was cited by Mr. Hines. He further stated, it was said, that the railroad administration should be left to make purchases at prices acceptable to it and that he would not accept arbitrary prices recommended by the board after agreement with industry.

Secretary Glass issued his statement thru his secretary, declining to see newspaper men who requested that he clarify the formal announcement.

Some officials predicted freely tonight that unless the railroad administration agrees to co-operate as to price recommendations and will make its and other purchases on this basis the board will collapse.

Coal, another point of disagreement on the present railroad administration was not discussed today. The national coal association last week announced that it would not continue its conference with the industrial board.

The conference today was attended by Secretaries Baker, Glass and Redfield, Attorney General Palmer, Director General Hines, Chairman Peck and the full membership of the industrial board, including administrator Garfield and Edward Riekard and W. A. Glasgow of the food administration.

Filipino Mission Here To Ask For Their Freedom

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Members of the special mission sent to the United States by the Philippine legislature to ask complete independence of the islands established headquarters today and prepared to present their case to the government.

Secretary Baker will see the mission Friday.

Soon after congress convenes the house insular affairs committee and the senate Philippine committee will hold a joint session to hear a formal memorial from the islanders.

Manuel L. Quezon, president of the Philippine senate and chairman of the mission, said today that the request for independence was based largely on the conduct of the islanders during the past four years. He pointed out that during the war the Filipinos raised a division of soldiers and stood ready to raise as many more as might be required; that the islands prospered under the extensive self-government granted them by the United States, and had subscribed more than their quota of every issue of liberty bonds and other war contributions.

The ambition of the Filipinos, M. Quezon said, is to cultivate the bond of friendship with the United States as an independent country and they always will feel deeply their sense of responsibility to this country. In a statement given out tonight the mission said it understood that President Wilson had prepared a message before leaving for France to be made public by the secretary of war. The contents of the president's statement have not been made known, members of the mission said, but they added that it was believed to be an important state document in Philippine affairs.

The personnel of the mission includes forty of the more progressive and leading men in the Philippines.

PROMPT SETTLEMENT OF PEACE URGED

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Senator Harding of Ohio, Republican in a statement tonight urged the necessity for a prompt peace settlement declaring it was impossible longer to ignore the serious concern of our people over delayed peace.

"The delay and the drift have carried us apparently to a recognition of the Bolshevik danger in Russia," Senator Harding stated. "Not only is Bolshevik destructiveness to be contended in fallen Russia, but the world will awaken pretty soon to the fact that Germany is dominant there and has expanded indefinitely more true revolution and delay than it was expected to accomplish by force of arms."

Senator Harding declared that the secrecy surrounding the consideration of the proposed league of nations plan in Paris was "regrettable."

"The original draft is doomed to not be buried at Paris," he said. "It is regrettable that we know so little. In the face of the solemn pledge of open covenants openly arrived at."

GARRITY HOPES TO CHECK WAVE OF CRIME

CHICAGO, April 2.—Chief of Police Garrity today began studying a "murder map" which by means of dots shows the prevalence of the homicidal spirit in the various police districts. There have been 75 homicides, of which 31 were classed as murders, in Chicago since January 1, the latest being reported today. A pool room owner, said to have been stake holder of a number of wagers placed on yesterday's mayoralty election, was slain with an ax.

INTRODUCE LARGE VOLUME OF EVIDENCE

LONDON, April 2.—Three large volumes of enlarged photographic reproductions, prepared by employees of the British war office of the handwriting of Captain Edmund G. Chamberlain of San Antonio, Texas, typewritten copies of reports alleged to have been made by Captain Chamberlain and the supposed signatures of British officers on the reports which the prosecution charges that Captain Chamberlain wrote were introduced today at the court martial of Captain Chamberlain in connection with his reported exploits on the British front last July. After a lengthy struggle between opposing lawyers regarding the admissibility of the volumes as evidence the court took its decision under advisement and adjourned the trial for the day.

STATE SENATORS TAKE UP PUBLIC UTILITIES ACT

Many Argue Against Repeal or Amend- ment of Law

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 2.—Further arguments against repeal or amendment of the state public utilities act were made by representatives of public utility concerns, banking interests and commercial associations before the senate public utilities committee today. The committee adjourned without acting on any of the bills before it.

Opponents of the Illinois municipal league were out in force and more than a dozen speakers appeared to challenge the position of the league that "home rule" in the control of utilities is necessary. Cities were heard two weeks ago.

B. P. Abschuler of Aurora, who said he represented sixty one utility companies, declared the plea for home rule was prompted in practically every case by "personal prejudice" and that it would be just as reasonable to ask the abolition of courts, because they rendered adverse decisions as to the elimination of the public utilities commission. A. L. Metzger, a banker of Elgin, said there were three million bank depositors in Illinois vitally affected by the stability or instability of public utility securities.

"A uniform policy with reference to the control of these utility concerns will stabilize this market and make bank deposits safe," said Mr. Metzger. "If utility companies are to be subjected to the whim of every city, however, it is going to be hard to tell where we are going."

Favor Recent Law

Among other speakers who defended the present utilities act were H. E. Kely, Chicago Association of Commerce, C. M. Jenks, mayor of Savannah; F. W. Bender, Rock Island chamber of commerce; William Evans, secretary Peoria board of trade; J. L. Collier, secretary Peoria association of commerce; C. E. White, chairman of the board of directors, Tri-City Manufacturers' association; C. H. Linscott, Rockford chamber of commerce and Otis Glenn of Murphysboro.

Bills proposing the abolition of the state board of equalization and the creation instead of a tax commission of three members were referred to a joint sub-committee after the board and senate committees had met with Governor Lowden to consider the measures today.

Governor Lowden reiterated his support of the bills but agreed to certain changes suggested by committee members. Greater freedom from the control of the finance department and a decrease of the salaries of the three tax commissioners from $7,000 to $6,000 were the chief amendments sanctioned. Certain legal difficulties also will have the attention of the sub-committee which was instructed to prepare a substitute bill. There was no opposition to the program of the administration to do away with the equalization board.

The senate executive committee tonight voted to dismiss complaints against alter A. Shaw, minority member of the public utilities commission and to recommend the concurrence of the senate of his reappointment.

The complaints against Commissioner Shaw were said to have been filed by a former employee of the commission who was asked to resign.

Late today the house judiciary committee reported out with a favorable recommendation of the bill of Representative Lucius Prohibiting the advocacy of the overthrow of the government by violence and making the offense a felony. The senate committee reported out with a recommendation that it pass Senator Bailey's bill to repeal the two-cent passenger fare law.

FLOYD THOMPSON WINS OVER GEORGE WILSON

QUINCY, Ill., April 2.—A tremendous preference for Floyd Thompson, Democrat, of Rock Island, in Quincy has given him a lead of 431 votes in the judicial election in the fourth district over George H. Wilson, Republican, of Quincy, which makes for now being stored at the various aviation fields maintained by the government. Storage capacity has been provided for six thousand planes, not including those in service or in immediate reserve with the squadrons. In addition airplane motors by the thousands have been stored.

The production of planes has exceeded the storage capacity of the fields. The war department is now negotiating with airplane builders for the disposal of all training and a considerable number of service machines for which it has no present or indicated future use.

These surplus machines are said to form a separate problem. There is no general market for the extra planes and there is no reason to expect that even a tenth of their cost can be salvaged. Probably planes that cost $15,000 or more will not bring over $1,000. The only offers have been from the contractors who built the machines.

There is practically no commercial market for airplanes. The surplus represents risks the builders are willing to take in the hope of finding sales for the planes later at the much less than cost price. Government planes purchased by the manufacturers it is understood are to be converted into seaplanes. This would permit their use for pleasure with or having landing fields available since they could rise from and return to the water.

So far as the government is concerned it appears likely that the surplus will be disposed of eventually at whatever loss since to retain the machines would mean building of new buildings and increased personnel.

THOMPSON ASKS CHADSEY TO QUIT

CHICAGO, April 2.—Charles E. Chadsey who recently came to Chicago as superintendent of schools at the largest salary paid for such a position in the United States sat up in startled surprise today when Mayor Harrison Thompson had scarcely been assured of his re-election when he suggested that Jacob Loeb, president of the school board, Dr. Chadsey should resign.

"I know nothing of local politics," said Dr. Chadsey, who came here a month ago from Detroit, Mich., "but I do know that the school board elected me for four years and I purpose to stay and do my work regardless of politics."

AMERICA PLANS TO MAINTAIN LARGE AIR FORCE

Full Details of Re-or- ganization Plans Given Out

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Army reorganization plans upon which the war department is now working provide for an air service with approximately 1700 airplanes in actual commission and a minimum available reserve of 3400 additional planes. This is based upon the proposed military establishment of 509,000 men in which total the air service personnel will be 1,921 officers and 21,851 men.

The air force on a peace basis will be comprised of 87 service squadrons of which 42 will be assigned to coast defense work in the United States and insular possessions; 21 will be pursuit squadrons and 25 observation and bombing squadrons. The typical army airplane squadron includes 18 planes in service and their personnel.

Tables of organization also call for the maintenance of 42 balloon companies divided into three wings of 14 companies each.

The general plan of the army reorganization calls for 21 divisions including one cavalry unit of nine regiments to be formed into five army corps each to be commanded by a lieutenant general. To each corps will be attached five observation and bombing squadrons of airplanes and four pursuit squadrons representing a wing formation for each type of machine.

The effect of this will be to give the air service definite recognition as the fourth arm of the line or combat forces of the army the others being artillery, cavalry and infantry. All other units are supplemental forces.

The tactical formation of the airplane branch of the air service will be in squadrons, groups and wings and the balloon section in companies, groups and wings. Machines in sufficient number to equip all of the air units planned for are now being stored at the various aviation fields maintained by the government. Storage capacity has been provided for six thousand planes, not including those in service or in immediate reserve with the squadrons. In addition airplane motors by the thousands have been stored.

The production of planes has exceeded the storage capacity of the fields. The war department is now negotiating with airplane builders for the disposal of all training and a considerable number of service machines for which it has no present or indicated future use.

WILLING TO RECOGNIZE NOVEMBER ARMISTICE

PARIS, April 2.—(By The A. P.)—Eulaspie advises to the French foreign office state that Bela Kun, the Hungarian foreign minister is willing to recognize the armistice of November. Although the allied mission in Hungary were expelled the new Hungarian government apparently does not consider it has broken relations with the allies and desires to maintain them. It is felt here that the misunderstanding by Hungarians of the neutral zone created between Hungary and Roumania led to the original action.

This decision of the judge advocate general was approved today by Secretary Baker.

Jap Official Discusses Future Of His Country

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 2.—The bureaucratic or militaristic element in power in Japan is gradually losing strength and in ten years there will be a new Japan under a democratic form of government in the opinion of Count Ozaki, member of the Japanese parliament who arrived here today.

"Eventually I hope we shall have universal suffrage," said Count Ozaki.

In speaking of China, he said: "It is essential for the future of China that all nations have the same policy toward that nation. With a divergence of policy, China will be divided against itself as some will favor one policy and others another."

Education is the great factor in promoting friendly relations between nations. We must learn to learn more about each other. There are troublemakers in all countries and they must be put down. When understandings are brought about then we will begin to do away with armaments. Japan is ready to join in the movement on the Pacific.

"There is no need for armaments in the Philippines. We believe that the United States should grant the islands their independence and Japan would undertake to be one of the guarantors of this independence."

DECLARES KOREA WILL BECOME A REPUBLIC

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—"Korea is certain to adopt a Republic form of government in the largest of which achieves her desire to become independent of Japan," said the Hon. Wang Ching Wai, who arrived here today from China on his way to the Paris peace conference to act in the capacity of adviser to the Chinese delegates.

"In her effort to secure her independence she has the entire moral support of China," said Mr. Wang. Mr. Wang said that all monarchistic ideas in China are dead.

"The republic is an established thing," he said, "and there is no chance of any reversion to the old order."

Such disturbances as are current in China at the present time are largely the result of Japanese agitation.

"The Japanese promised that they would not furnish any arms or ammunition to any factions in China and they have failed to make good their promise. It is only a matter of time when matters will become adjusted for the malcontents and a minority."

"China has no ambitions in the matter of Korea. That she should become freed of Japanese domination only to become subject to China is not our idea of the principle of self determination for small nations as now under discussion at Paris," he said.

HELD FOR MURDER WITHOUT BAIL

WOODSTOCK, Va., April 2.—Four Virginia state prohibition agents charged with murdering Lawrence D. Hudson and Raymond Shackelford, alleged bootleggers killed near here last week, were held without bail for the grand jury after a hearing here today before a magistrate.

The accused, Harry F. Sweet, J. H. Sullivan, W. C. Hall and W. M. Dunlevy, were ordered taken to the Fredericksburg jail under protection of the Richmond militia company which had stood guard in and about the court house during the hearing.

Stipulation was made by the magistrate that upon consent of a circuit judge the prohibition officers might be admitted to bail. Counsel for Judge Whiting appeared before Judge Whiting and the circuit court here and presented arguments for the release of the four men. The court, however, refused to rescind or alter in any way the magistrate's order.

DEFINITE FRENCH INDEMNITY FROM GERMANY

Paris, April 2.—(Havas)—The proposal that the French indemnity from Germany be merely defined instead of calculated in the preliminary peace treaty is attacked by several newspapers. Some of them declare that this method would raise endless difficulties between France and Germany.

The Journal even fears that such a settlement would pave the way to a new war rather to peace.

ISSUES BENCH WARRANT.

Chicago, April 2.—Federal Judge Landis today issued bench warrants for two stock salesmen who had sold stock in the Consumers Packing company and ordered S. C. Levinson and J. B. Padway held to the grand jury in connection with the sales. Levinson is said to be in Pittsburgh. The warrants were for Levinson and Theodore Kalish.

Three Indiana farmers told of the alluring inducements offered by the salesmen.

U. S. CAVALRY TROOPS KILL FIVE MEXICANS

Cross Border and Re- cover Loot Taken By Bandits

MARFA, Tex., April 2.—Following a raid across the Rio Grande river during a blinding hail storm by Mexican bandits last night troop K, 8th cavalry took and killed five of the bandits, recovered the horses and cattle stolen and returned to the American side according to an official report received by Col. George Langhorn, at district headquarters here late today.

The report of the Mexicans crossing the river was received at midnight last night. The bandits were reported to have crossed to the American side between Ruidosa and Candelaria on the river front. They stole cattle and horses and drove them back across the river.

Troop K and Troop M were ordered to the scene of the raid and by daybreak Troop L had moved into support position from India. Infantry detachments were moved to occupy the stations left vacant by the cavalry troops.

Tracks of the raiders and stolen cattle were followed to the river bank. Cavalry troops were ordered to follow into Mexico.

The bandits scattered and Troop K overtook the bandits and killed five of them before they could hide in the canyons. The cavalry recovered the horses and cattle stolen. The cavalry suffered no casualties. The raid was the eighth successful pursuit into Mexico by the eighth cavalry since it came to the Big Bend.

THIRTY SEVEN I. W. W. ADMITTED TO BAIL

CHICAGO, April 2.—Thirty seven of the 93 I. W. W. convicted last September of conspiracy to violate the espionage act and now in Leavenworth penitentiary were admitted to bail by the United States court of appeals pending review of their conviction on appeal. Bail ranged from $15,000 for William D. Haywood, international secretary down to $1,000 for five of the prisoners. The total amount of bail will require scheduling of property valued at more than $1,000,000. Counsel for the appellants immediately began a nationwide effort to obtain sureties to satisfy the court which must approve bonds before any of the prisoners can be released. District Attorney Charles F. Clyne vigorously opposed the application for bail. He asserted his belief that release of the convicted men would leave a tendency to encourage rebellion against the government. The court warned counsel for the appellants that any repetition by their clients of acts such as those for which they were sentenced would result in cancellation of the bonds and return of the offenders to prison.

The 93 I. W. W. were sentenced in Federal Judge Landis' court for one to twenty years. Haywood's sentence was 20 years. Fifty six of them did not ask bail.

LOWDEN REJECTS BIDS ON CEMENT

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 2.—Bids on cement for Illinois' big road building projects, offered by manufacturers today and averaging $1.70 a barrel, net at the mill, are said to be unsatisfactory to Governor Frank O. Lowden who called the bidders to his private office this afternoon and told them so.

The bids are said to be about ten cents under those formerly made by the cement men.

The governor declined to discuss what he said to the manufacturers but it was learned that he placed before them the findings of his private investigation into cement prices which indicated that cement could be produced by the state at one dollar a barrel.

It is estimated that 2,000,000 barrels of cement will be needed in the immediate future to complete the road building work contemplated.

Governor Lowden has announced that work will not be commenced until prices are "within reason."

THAT ADDED TELEGRAPH BILL.

If Postmaster General Burleson had general popularity it would be gone thru his ousting of President Mackey of the Postal Telegraph Co., and the order almost immediately following raising the toll rates about 20 per cent. This last order means an added expense for wire users of $15,000,000. Mr. Mackey says that if the company again gets in control of its property that the order for increased rates will be revoked. If the matter could only be put to popular vote Mr. Mackey would win by 100 per cent.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN NEXT?

A few weeks ago there was a great deal of dissatisfaction and unrest because the food administration by agreement with the packers made a maximum price of $17.50 per hundred for hogs. The price was to high and was to come down when government control ceased. Yesterday hogs sold at $20.35 and now those who were violently opposing the food administration prices are wondering what is going to happen next.

THE JUDICIAL ELECTION.

The election of Floyd Thompson of Rock Island to membership in the supreme court seems to be assured by the latest returns, altho the vote is very close. In the campaign neither Mr. Thompson's record or character were attacked. The principal argument against him was that of youth. Evidently in the minds of a majority of those who took part in the election the mere fact that a man is but thirty one years of age does not disqualify him for supreme court membership.

It must be conceded, however, that the wet and dry issue had much to do with the vote cast. Whether or not Mr. Thompson can be properly be accounted as a wet advocate, he had the support of those who were opposed to the dry movement. Mr. Wilson, his opponent, has been so actively identified with the anti-saloon movement that there was no doubt as to how he stood on this question, and that record brought him a great deal of active opposition, especially in his home county.

Mr. Wilson's friends here and throughout the district will sincerely regret that he did not secure election, for they really believe that with his experience of thirty years as an attorney that he had qualifications superior to those of his younger opponent.

TO THE BUSINESS MAN: A MESSAGE ON PRICES

(U. S. Dept. of Labor.)

This division presents here with a monograph by Professor Irving Fisher of the Department of Political Economy, Yale University, on the subject of prices in the period ahead of us.

Prices are the most vital concern in the business man's life, at this juncture. Is the general level of prices going up or down? Upon the answer to that question depends the commitments which buyers, merchants and producers will make. If there is to come a long period of sinking prices, men will not, and dare not buy except from hand to mouth. Therefore men cannot produce. That means unemployment for labor, disruption of working organizations, loss to capital, deficiency in public revenues, general business stagnation.

If, on the other hand, prices as a whole are not going to drop, business can confidently go ahead. The stage is set for prosperity, full production, universal employment, good times. Whether this will come depends on the answer to the question as to the course of the price level.

Professor Fisher is probably the country's first authority on the subject of prices. Read what he has to say.

He confirms the conviction that has been growing in the minds of many thruout the country, namely, the conviction that the high price level to which we have attained is no temporary thing but permanent. We are simply using more counters than engaged in effecting exchanges.

To everyone engaged in trade, finance or industry, Professor Fisher's message has an especial importance. In general, prices, and hence wages, are not going to fall. In the case of particular products, there may be particular reasons why prices may drop but in the absence of definite knowledge of such special reasons it is safe to assume that prices are not going to drop. In other words, you can go ahead with the assurance that even if it costs you more now to produce, you will be able to sell your product at a higher price. There is a new price level all around.

Prices are the steam gauge that tell the business engineer how much pressure he has in his boilers.

Have you been misreading the gauge?

If you have, acknowledge your mistake, open the throttle, and full speed ahead!

THE CHICAGO MAYOR'S MACHINE.

Anyone who doesn't think that the mayor of Chicago has a powerful political machine should remember that there are 3000 or 4000 policemen besides thousands of other employees. They, with their friends, constitute a big voting asset. Then for election day there are over 2,200 headquarters for polling places to be rented and over 11,000 election judges and clerks to be appointed. These figures give some indication of the big machine the Chicago mayor or is able to operate in his own behalf if he knows how. Evidently Mayor Thompson knows.

ROBBERS USE MODERN METHODS

Even thefts are committed these days in a modern way. In Indiana two fleeing robbers made their getaway in a stolen automobile. When the gas in this car was consumed they abandoned it and stole another car and continued their journey. This action was repeated and by this relay plan they covered several hundred miles in a few hours' time.

So far the declaration that bank holdups and crimes of that kind will increase in Illinois when hard roads come is the only argument that has ever been produced against country road improvement. By the same token the building of hard roads and the possibility of increasing certain classes of crime is being urged as a reason for the need of a state constabulary.

SALARIES THEN AND NOW.

Even the countless movie fans who thoroly enjoy the doings of Charlie Chaplin, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbank and other film world people of their class, think there is something economically wrong about the enormous salaries that these artists are said to draw down yearly. Estimates of the yearly earnings of some of these favorites are more than $1,000,000, and $100,000 to a successful film actor is a mere bagatelle. No wonder there is a

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

April—
When April comes the welkin hums with cries of human gladness; the Winter's past and Spring at last has come to can our sadness. The birds return with songs to burn, and frolic in the maples, the farmer sows his oats in rows, and hay and other staples. When blizzards whoop around the coop it's hard to keep on smiling; but April days soothe weary jays, with zephyrs most beguiling. We're tired and worn ere to his bourne old Winter has departed; his snow and sleet have chilled our feet and left us broken hearted. Despair he springs, but April brings a salve for all our bruises; the wintry blast is quelled at last, and all the world enthuses. The ancient guy of blinary eye forgets his many winters, and hops along with laugh and song, a caution to all sprinters. The man of aches whose groaning makes a discord of existence, forgets disease and laps the breeze feeling that something is amiss about these salaries, when the records of theatrical history are turned back.

Some facts recently came to light which show that just a little more than fifty years ago Henry Irving was paid $13 a week for his services and Ellen Terry's weekly stipend was $25. Other actors and actresses of like fame in earlier years were considered wonderfully paid if they had salaries amounting to as much as $100 a week.

ECHEGARAY'S "THE GREAT GALEOTO."

To be presented at the Illinois Woman's College April 4th and 5th.

This play enjoys the distinction of being the greatest of all modern Spanish dramas. It is also noted for the fact that it is the only play in literature where the hero is an unseen influence rather than a person. The drama is intensely strong and easily takes its place in the great dramas of the world.

The story is the immortal Paolo and Francesca Motif, with the Modification that the important character is neither Paolo nor Francesca, but Fame, Report or Reputation.

Unlike the other plays to be presented, this play is tragic and tell with important variations of the story immortalized by Dante in the fifth canto of the Inferno. The environment is modern Spanish life and the ethical foundation is true to the best known and eternal law of the drama, "the soul that sinneth, it shall die."

OLD JACKSONVILLE

The Rev. Chas. B. Barton

By Ensley Moore

(Member Illinois State Historical Society)

One of the most benign men in appearance and gentle in character that Jacksonville ever knew was the Rev. Charles Backus Barton. He and his family had much to do with our earlier and later history.

Mr. Barton was born in Fitchburg, Mass., September 1, 1810, and he went far in distance and days from his birthplace. He was the son of the Rev. Titus Theodore Barton, who was born Feb. 7, 1766, presumably in Granby, Mass. Titus B. Barton was the son of Daniel Barton, of Branby. Titus became a soldier in the Revolutionary army at the age of fourteen years, serving to the end of the conflict, about three years, and proving himself one of the heroes of our natal development. He then attended Dartmouth College, being graduated in 1790. He studied medicine and obtained his degree in that profession, but spent most of his life in the ministry. He was settled over "The church of Christ in Jewkesbury," in 1792. He married Mrs. Ruth Wood, widow of the Rev. Jacob Wood, of Newbury, Vt., and the daughter of Stephen House, of Methuen, Mass. Mr. Barton was dismissed from his first charge in 1803, and in 1804 was installed over the church in Fitchburg.

Removes to South.
In the Fall of 1817, he removed to West Tennessee, with a family of nine children, of which Chas. B. was the youngest. After spending ten years there, Mr. T. Barton decided to leave. He died suddenly with disease of the heart two days after entering the State.

A Patriot Again.
But, before leaving Fitchburg, Mr. Barton had proved he was still patriotic, by upholding the government in the War of 1812, at much personal disadvantage.

On His Travels.
"The journey from Massachusetts to Tennessee occupied seventy three days, full of hardships and perils, exhausting all my father's means. His anticipations regarding the new home were bitterly disappointed. But he was compelled to remain with his family," wrote Chas. B. Barton, long years after. "The ten years there were full of care, toil and privation. He labored on the farm, felled the forest, split rails two hundred the day he was sixty years old) planted orchards and vineyards, worked in the shop at coopering and cabinet making, preached almost every Sunday with little remuneration."

Practiced medicine quite extensively among the poor, and wrought with his pen, during what leisure he could command, against the errors in belief and practice with which he came in contact. To remove his family from the influences of slavery he decided to come to Jacksonville, Ill. The journey was halting, when he reached the Ohio river. The party rested two days on this side of the river, and then the weary man fell speechless and was gone from human experience.

George Naulty was down to the city from Prentice yesterday. Miss Mabel Unken was a city shopper from Chapin yesterday.

Francis Dolan was a city arrival from Winchester yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Nollisch of Chandler-ville were among the shoppers in the city yesterday. John J. Brown and family were travelers from Literberry to the city yesterday. Samuel Friday made a trip from Prentice to the city yesterday.

Mrs. Alice Early has moved from 565 Sharp street to 229 Anna street.

F. A. Baumeister of Holyrood, Kans., is spending a few days with relatives and friends in the city and county.

Dan T. Smith of Winchester was attending to business matters in the city yesterday.

J. N. Sinclair of Virginia spent Wednesday in the city on business.

W. D. Mason and E. Gill of Mexico, Mo., were numbered among the business visitors in the city yesterday.

W. H. Algier of Mt. Sterling was calling on friends in the city Wednesday.

J. J. Sherman of Peoria was a Wednesday visitor in the city.

Frank Hutchinson of Cambridge spent Wednesday in the city attending to business matters.

Rev. J. E. Curry of Waverly, and brother, A. A. Curry of Pisgah, called in the city yesterday. Riley Young helped represent Literberry in the city yesterday.

Mrs. H. A. Brendon went to Virginia yesterday for a visit with friends.

Mrs. William Riley and daughter Geraldine were city arrivals from Ashland yesterday.

B. R. Edwards was a city caller from Bloomington yesterday. G. P. Willis of Literberry made the city a visit yesterday. L. B. Tranbarger of Franklin was a traveler to the city yesterday. C. C. Case was down to the city from Bloomington yesterday. H. A. Hanson helped represent Peoria in the city yesterday. C. N. Greene was a city caller from Quincy yesterday. Alfred Skinner of Clinton was looking after his interests in the city yesterday. John Atkinson of Winchester was one of the city's visitors yesterday. Gus Six of Naples was a traveler to the city yesterday. Mrs. Dan Voorhees and daughter arrived in the city from Joy Prairie yesterday.

He was buried two miles below Ford's Ferry, twenty-five miles south of Equality, Ill. The widow and children kept on their way to Jacksonville. "We found Jacksonville a collection of twenty-five or thirty dwellings, mostly log cabins, two or three stores, and a whiskey tavern."

Chas. B. Barton says, of his first work here, "For our first house, I went to the forest, cut logs, split and hewed puncheons for the floor, rived boards for the roof, built mud jams for fire places, with mud and stick chimney, not spending five dollars for doors, windows, nails, hinges, etc. It was a happy home, wanting only the lost one."

Goes to College.

Charles B. Barton was one of the seven who made the beginning of study in Illinois College, in January 1830. He was graduated in the class of 1836. Soon after being graduated Mr. Barton married a young lady of fine abilities, with whom he spent the rest of her life, and they, at first taught school. In the Fall of 1840, Mr. Barton was licensed to preach, by the New School Society of Illinois. His first charge was at Newburgh, Peoria county, this state. He also preached at Brimfield and the Newburgh church was absorbed in that of Elmwood. He went in 1845 to Bethel, Bond county, staying nearly two years. Then to the church at Farmington, Sangamon county, staying four years. Mr. Barton spent a year here, then another at Manchester. In the Fall of 1853 he went to the Congregational churches of Bunker Hill and Woodburn, living at the latter place. There he stayed ten years. He spent four years at Richview, and then went back to Bethel. In 1874, he came to Jacksonville, and preached there, an interpreter, for most of the time to the 2nd Portuguese church. This was his last post of labor, and here he lost his wife. They lived out near the Morgan County Fair Grounds, on Chastnut street, corner of W. La Fayette Ave. Mr. and Mrs. Barton had no children. Most of the last days of his life were spent there, with relatives. He occasionally preached, and was a feature of Commencements of Illinois College.

Mr. Barton died Dec. 19, 1903—nearly ninety-four years of age.

Related to Daniels' and Others.

Mr. Barton's sister married Verous Daniels and was the grandmother of Mrs. Gunn, now well known here, on the Liberty road. He had a brother, Jacob Barton, who lived out on North Main street, west side, near the city limits. He was the father of Mrs. Matthew Ashby so highly esteemed in Westminster church. A sister married the Rev. Solomon Hardy, a pioneer preacher, and father of the well known S. Barton Hardy who went to Denver, Col., from here, in 1872. Another sister married Mr. McAllister, father of Otway McAllister. These and others were relatives of the good old preacher.

The clothing store of Myers Brothers was being adorned with some handsome cases yesterday. They were especially designed for sporting goods.

E. Wessell made a business trip from Peoria to the city yesterday.

Lawrence Henry attended the tractor demonstration near Alexander yesterday and stopped in town on his way home to Woodson.

Miss Helen Rousey of Murrayville was one of the city shoppers yesterday.

Mixed Iron Helps to Spread Health and Strength to 300,000,000 People Annually. Get Your Share!

When you think of the successful men and women you know—people who are doing things worth while—you will find that they possess force, vim and energy—the kind that simply brim over when the blood is filled with iron.

Iron is red blood food—it helps put strength and energy into the veins of men and roses into the cheeks of women.

A prominent New York Surgeon and former Adjunct Professor of the New York Post Graduate Medical School and Hospital, Dr. Kenneth K. MacAlpine, says: "If people would only realize that iron is just as indispensable to the blood as is the air to the lungs and be just as particular about keeping up a sufficient supply at all times there would, in my opinion, be far less disease resulting from anemic, weakened conditions. In my opinion, Nuxated Iron is the most valuable tonic, strength and blood builder any physician can prescribe."

MANUFACTURER'S NOTE: Nuxated Iron, which has been prescribed and recommended by physicians and which is used by over three million people annually is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated and does not injure the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser of they will refund your money.

NEW FRONT
John Wolke is putting in a new and handsome front in the building owned by Patrick Lonergan and now used as a pool room on the northeast corner of the square. Away back in the 1890's, that place was occupied by Horace Bancroft, shoe merchant. He sold out to the Marcy Brothers who moved over to the marble front in the room now occupied by the Farmers Bank & Trust Company. The Marcys both died and their nephew and Charles Hopper succeeded them. Mr. Marcy had to go west for his health and now that store is Hopper & Son on the southeast corner of the square.

For some time Edward Cosgriff, father of the enterprising young men who are the chief owners of the Economy stores, had a family grocery there. For a good while the place was the well known Lohman saloon, a place that was conducted in a lawful manner and discouraged the trade of drunkards and minors. Then the city went dry and other enterprises found a home there, the last being the present manager of the pool room.

At one time there was a photograph gallery in the second story. For a time C. A. Catlin was one of the firm of Catlin & Williams and later it was Marline & Williams, the former being a portrait painter of good ability.

MR. PONTIUS RECOMMENDS BOOKS FOR CHILDREN.

Editor Daily Journal:
Because I am deeply interested in the proper development of the child I am writing these words. One of the most helpful books I have found for the child of nine or ten years is "God's Wonder World" by Cora Stanwood Cobb. This is a volume of 304 pages filled with good things that are not only interesting and instructive but are easily and profitably built into the structure of Christian character. The work of God thru nature is explained in such a way that the facts, the scientific, are easily understood. To mothers, Sunday school teachers I recommend this wonderful book. One of the best books for little children, beginners in the Sunday school, that I have found is "The Little Child in the Sunday School" by Guild and Poor. The aim is to teach the child mind and heart love and service thru Bible and nature stories that are very fascinating. I wish to emphasize the fact that I am not selling these

WATCHEEKE CAMP FIRE NOTES.

On Wednesday morning in the chapel exercises of the Junior high school the Watchekee Camp Fire Girls favored the school with "Aneida's Dream" a short play. This play had been planned to be given on March 17 as a celebration of the seventh birthday of the camp fire but owing to unforeseen circumstances it was postponed until April 2.

Story of "Aneida's Dream."
One night, an Indian maid, was sitting before her wigwam craving to know how she might best spend her life, so that each day in the coming years would be of value to the world. Behold, out of the shadows a dark figure crept, and touched the quiet maid and she fell asleep.

The Weaver of Dreams calls the maidens of the world, and they tell how they have worked and served and suffered for humanity.

You Can't Cure Rheumatism With Liniments and Lotions

Torturing Pains Promptly
Return in All Their Intensity

You may as well throw your liniments to the winds, if you expect them to rid you of the pangs of rheumatism. In fact, the sooner you discard forever the use of all forms of local treatment, the sooner you will get on the right track which leads to rational means of relief. For you can rub and rub from now until doomsday, and you will never make any progress toward ridding yourself of rheumatism, because such treatment does not approach the source of the disease. Remember from the early days the pangs of rheumatism come from a deep-seated cause, and that simply rubbing the painful parts of the body has no effect on the disease itself. But when you locate the cause of the disease, the real source of all these intense pains, you can then treat the disease intelligently.

And until you do treat your rheumatism intelligently, you will never be free from its disabling pangs. So many people have found real, genuine and lasting relief from rheumatism by purifying the blood with S. S. S. that we are justified in recommending this splendid remedy to all who are afflicted. Perhaps your case is like thousands of others which are caused by millions of "tiny disease germs" in the blood. S. S. S. so thoroughly cleanses the blood, that it routs out completely and eliminates all disease germs that infect it. In this way the source of the disease is reached, and its cause removed. Give your system a thorough cleansing with this reliable, trustworthy blood remedy, and you will be delighted to be free of the pangs of rheumatism. It has been used for more than fifty years and is sold at all drug stores. Begin your cure today and you will have the same satisfactory experience as thousands of other sufferers. Should you wish special advice about your own case, it can be had without cost by writing to C. M. Medical Adviser, 101 South Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

U. S. TREASURER TO SPEAK HERE.

A telegram received last night by E. E. Crabtree from Andrew Russell announced that John Burke, ex-governor of North Dakota and now treasurer of the U. S., will speak in Jacksonville Tuesday night, April 15. Rev. M. L. Pontius, acting in behalf of the Triangle club of the Christian church, had been in communication with Mr. Russell for some time relative to the coming of Mr. Burke and he is to speak under the auspices of the Triangle club at the Christian church.

Mr. Burke's address will have a direct connection with the liberty loan campaign. Jacksonville people may count themselves fortunate in this opportunity to hear ex-Governor Burke. For the period from 1907 to 1913 he was governor of North Dakota and made a splendid record. For more than five years he has been serving as U. S. treasurer and he is well versed in financial affairs of the nation. His signature, at least, is very well known throughout the country as it has for years appeared on all the bank and treasury notes issued.

A STRONG APPEAL FOR THE SALVATION ARMY

Soldier Who Served in Welsh Regiment During Great Conflict Has Highest Praise for Work of Great Organization at Battle Front.

Mention has previously been made of the fact that Sgt. Andrew Hampton of the British army, would be here to aid in the campaign for funds that is now being conducted by the Elks lodge. Sgt. Hampton is now in the city, and yesterday gave the following story of his army experiences. He is enthusiastic in his praise of the work done by the Salvation Army during the recent war and makes a stirring appeal for aid on behalf of this worthy organization. His statement follows:

To commence right is to own up that I am a rover by nature, and in my 41 years of life I have visited all the principal cities of the world. I have been in the army before, having served thru the Boer war, from 1899 to 1902 being slightly wounded. I also operated a machine gun in the Mexican scrap under Francisco I. Madero in 1910 and managed to escape from that scrimmage without a scratch.

So you will understand why it was that I thought myself some veteran when on August 6th, 1914, I enlisted in the Old Contemptible of the British Army.

The soldiers who enlisted at that time did not have the advantages of training that was true later on but were hurled into the fray to try and stop the on-rushing hordes of Prussia.

We failed to stop them at Mons, but at the Marne we came into our own, and when Fritz got thru retreating he had been driven back to Belgium and a section of Northern France where an elaborate system of trenches had been prepared for him. From that time until the Americans with their unlimited wealth and fine manhood entered the contest, it was a series of give and take battles without either side being able to strike a decisive blow.

I will always remember the first time I went over the top in a charge, and how surprised I was at the modern way of charging.

I had known charges in the time of the Boer war where we ran as fast as we could to come to close grips with the enemy, but in France it was just the opposite.

We moved forward at an ordinary walk with the creeping barrage of our artillery advancing ahead of us. In this, the first bayonet charge in which I took part, the German that I was engaged with, was an unusually large man, too large in fact to suit me, and when he raised his rifle for the downward lunge, I thought my bacon was cooked.

How it was done I don't know but I managed to parry his blow and drive my bayonet into his throat.

The seeming ease with which I parried his thrust restored my nerve at once, and from that on thru those terrible four years of war I had nothing but contempt for the Prussian soldier.

It was at Dixmude that I first saw how the field forces of the Salvation Army worked. We had suffered an unusually heavy bombardment by the German guns all day, and our losses in killed and wounded were severe.

Towards four o'clock in the afternoon I saw a squad of what I supposed were Scotch troops picking up wounded men and bringing them to the first aid dressing station.

Their skirts seemed longer than the Scotch kilt and I worked closer to get a better look. You can imagine my surprise when I found that they were not troops at all, but Salvation Army lassies who were braving that hell of shot and shell, and to the music of machine guns, rifle and big gun fire were carrying on their work of mercy, and doing all in their power to ease the suffering of wounded men.

They gave no thought to the fact that any one of these exploding shells might kill them. They only knew that their services were needed, and with a firm belief in the saving grace of their Maker, and with the knowledge that He died that others might live, they braved hell itself to carry on their work of comfort and consolation.

Being a sailor, I had never been very strong on religion but on that day I thanked God for the power that could send that devoted little band into the hell of No-Man's Land to whisper a cheering word or maybe a prayer while at the same time they were giving first aid to those who had fallen in battle.

To picture that scene in words is not possible, but altho I have been in a number of battles that were far more severe, yet the picture of that little band of Lassies will remain with me until the final taps are sounded on this earth and I go to join my companions who went west "over there."

It was at Givenchy in Northern France that I first had a taste of Fritz' gas and as we had no gas masks we were dependent on any wet cloth we could get hold of to hold over our mouths to breathe thru.

Had the gas been as strong then as it was later on we would have been killed to a man, but as it was, it sent quite a number west.

It was at Givenchy that, later on in the war, I was very badly wounded. I was operating a Lewis machine gun in section of trench that was manned by thirty men when a "Buzzy Bertha," or 13 1/2 inch shell paid us a visit. After the explosion there were 27 dead, and 3 wounded out of the 30, and of the 3 survivors, I was the most fortunate.

David had both of his legs blown away at the knees; Evans had his eyes blasted out and his jaw shattered and I had my ribs caved in and a piece of shrapnel thru the throat. I came out of it all right in about 4 months and then back to the firing line for mine. The entrance of the American Army in the war spelled finish for Fritz and most nobly have they upheld the traditions of this grand old country.

It is not generally known, but it is a fact that during these four awful years of war the Salvation Army workers have brought 152,000 wounded soldiers to first aid dressing stations and their own losses have been considerable.

It was home service work that trained them so that they could carry on their work in France without confusion.

There are numberless instances where they have been "Johnnie on the spot," right up in the front line trenches, but every one of our boys from over there will tell you the same thing and it is much nicer to have your boys tell it to you than to read it.

This drive which is being launched today by the B. P. O. Elks is to raise funds to continue this home service work and keep this devoted little band of workers in training, and all of this money is to be used in your own city and county, to help the man, woman or child that needs help.

The Salvation Army made good in France, and ministered to the needs of your boys, but now they need your help.

Are you going to fail them? Of course not, you would be untrue to the Spirit of America if you did.

Sincerely Yours,
Andrew Hampton,
3rd Batt. Welsh Regt.,

Plans are now being made for the holding of a May Day fete at Illinois College, the arrangements for which are in charge of an executive committee composed of Mrs. Andrew Russel, Mrs. C. A. Barnes, Miss Mary Alexander, Dr. Leubke and Edward Tomlinson. The custom of holding this annual event had been followed at the college until a few years since, and at the regular meeting of the students Wednesday morning it was unanimously decided to revive the custom this year. It is probably that Dr. J. G. Ames will aid in the later preparations for this event if he is able to be in the city at that time.

Suits for Easter For Men and Women

Wear the clothes that are becoming to your figure, not the "fashionable" ones. "Fashion" is not style--correctness of design and line is the thing

We are nonconformists with regard to "fashions" which are so quick to come and go. We don't care a rap how they are wearing 'em in London or Gotham, but do have exact notions as to the proper thing here at home.

You are the one to be suited.

As clothing designers it is strictly up to us to produce clothes the way you want them, and we do. We take the different individualisms into account in our designing, and produce garments that are at the same time in keeping with correct style and the wearer's personal wishes.

As to patterns—you will find the very newest weaves here for suits for both men and women.

Another point—good work cannot be unduly hurried, and nothing but "good work" can go out of our shop. Easter is not far away. Come in and talk the matter over with us.

From County Agents Office

Poultry Culling—The Best time to cull flocks is in August and September. F. L. Platt of the United States Department of Agriculture, did not advise the County Agent to hold culling demonstrations at other times than these months. Poultry can be culled at any time but the expert cannot make a one-hundred per cent record for accuracy at all times in the year. H. W. Dinwiddie, of Arcadia selected his breeding flock according to the method demonstrated at the Chautauqua last summer. In a recent conversation he said that 50 birds, selected in that manner, were laying more than 175 that were not up to their idea of what the breeding bird should be. It is a source of a good deal of satisfaction to know the poultry raisers are carrying out these new methods on the farms.

Tandem Hitches—The breeders of draft horses are not going to see the horses displaced without a struggle. Prof. E. A. White of the College of Agriculture has devised a system of tandem hitches that makes it possible to

STOP THAT COLD

Treat it with a remedy that you know positively will help it. Goose grease and turpentine were used by your great grandparents and served them well. They are as good now as they ever were—even better. When you get them under the MEN-THO-EZE label, they'll be the same old goose grease and turpentine, but they'll be combined with menthol, the great cold remedy of China and Japan, also peppermint, wintergreen and other healing oils.

The goose grease and turpentine in MEN-THO-EZE work on that cold from the outside of the chest. Fumes of the menthol and other oils are inhaled, going right to the linings of the throat and lungs. The result of this double treatment is—relief in 20 minutes.

work larger teams of horses to the farm machinery now being turned over to the tractors. Demonstrations of this new method will be shown at Decatur on April 19th and at Jerseyville on April 26th. The Morgan county farmers have been invited to see both of these demonstrations a trip by auto to either of these places is practical and worth while.

Wheat Clipping—This has never been a common farm practice. However, many growers of winter wheat in Kansas make a practice of clipping it in the spring, which is certainly equivalent to clipping. A number of our Morgan County farmers grazed their wheat last spring and more grazed it this. So far as I have been able to find out, no one has any complaint to make against the practice. W. B. Barrows of Pisgah, a few years ago, tried clipping a piece of wheat. In his opinion the results were very satisfactory. We shall be very glad to hear from any of our farmers who have successfully clipped rank growing wheat.

Daylight Saving—Inquiries amongst people engaged in varied occupations finds very few people enthusiastic in regard to the daylight saving law. A drayman remarked the other day that he would rather work his garden in the morning than at night. Others do not like to adjust themselves to the earlier hour in the morning. The farmer is not the only man dead against the law. A good many farmers have moved up their clocks to conform to the new law but cut their mid-day meal at 1 o'clock and quit field work at 7. Last year some farm hands wanted to begin work according to the old time and quit at 6 o'clock according to the new. By having a complete understanding in regard to having a mid-day meal at 1 o'clock and quitting field work at 7 friction will be avoided between farmer and farm hands.

HEALTH CRUSADE IS BENEFIT TO MOTHERS

Mothers of Crusaders Find Children are Taking Up Responsibility for Personal Care and Cleanliness—Every Standard Duty Covered in List of Chores

"William! Did you wash your face this morning?"

Mothers of Jacksonville, accustomed for years to the need for constant vigilance, have nearly forgotten such stereotyped questions as this since the work of the Modern Health Crusade began to make itself apparent. Instead of being compelled to order each daily move of their offspring, the mothers have been pleasantly surprised to note that the children themselves are taking up the responsibility for personal care and cleanliness.

Duties which heretofore seemed a tedious drudgery have now taken on new significance to the children, mothers here observe. Leaders in the Modern Health Crusade Movement have succeeded in the apparently impossible undertaking of making neatness and bodily cleanliness attractive. They have introduced the "game" idea into these duties.

When Johnny or Mary permitted teeth to go unbrushed or hands to remain dirty, it used to mean a reprimand. Now it means the loss of a coveted "point" in the scoring of the "health chores" which each child of Jacksonville is pledged to do.

Every standard duty of the sort which formerly gave mothers the greatest trouble is covered in the list of Modern Health Crusaders' chores. Hands must be clean before each meal, or a point on the daily score card is forfeited. Face, ears, and neck must be washed regularly, and finger nails cleaned. Unclean substances must not be introduced into the mouth or nose. Teeth must be brushed.

In addition to these routine matters, the Crusaders are obligated to observe correct habits of breathing, they must stand erect, they avoid tea and coffee, they play vigorously, they bathe regularly, and in all their dealings with each other and their elders they try to be cheerful and helpful. One little girl remarked "It keeps me a thinking" all the time, Miss Cobb, what to do."

Not the familiar "Do" or "Don't" drives the children of Jacksonville to attempt in lagard fashion, these seemingly impossible achievements. Inspired by the hope of winning honors in the Modern Health Crusaders' contest, each finds real joy in striving to make his conduct better than that of his neighbor.

And Jacksonville mothers thus the burden of their daily tasks thus miraculously lightened, are finding that for them, also the Modern Health Crusade means a greater joy in life.

Miss Anna Dolan of Winchester was one of the city shoppers yesterday.

TO THE VOTERS OF JACKSONVILLE.

Thirty-three citizens, of their own free will and accord, it appears from the returns wrote my name on their ballots as a candidate for City Clerk at the primary election held on March 11th. I was not an avowed candidate, or I should have filed a petition as was suggested to me. Of the thirty-three voters, I knew of the intentions of only three previous to the election and since then possibly eight or ten have told me how they voted. Of the remainder, I of mine went to the trouble of writing the name on their ballots and as many others have urged me to become a candidate, I decided to let it go at that and if elected April 15th, that I will serve to the best of my ability. I do not feel, as has been intimated to me on one or two occasions, that I am attempting wrongfully to deprive any one of "his job", because up to date what support I have received has been voluntarily offered and wholly unsolicited. Furthermore, the position is one to which each and every citizen of Jacksonville has the same right to aspire as any other citizen. I believe in a fair, clean contest and so far as I am concerned, nothing of a personal nature will be injected into this one, nor sanctioned by me if started by others.

I am heartily in accord with the views and sentiments of a local minister, whom I heard preach a sermon on politics a short time ago. He said every good citizen took an interest in politics and exercised his voting prerogative whenever opportunity offered. He advised voters to study the lives of not only the candidates, but also their friends and enemies. I do not know who my enemies are or may be, but I certainly am not ashamed of my friends and associates, or their records.

I lived in Morgan county for twenty years, and attended the High School and Illinois College in Jacksonville; am an Alumnus of the latter institution. Later I went west with the well known firm of Greenleaf & Baker of this city, returning home five years ago. My occupation has been largely that of a bookkeeper and general office work, with five years in newspaper work. For the last five years I have been with J. Capps & Sons.

I naturally shall be pleased if elected, but if a majority decided adversely, I shall be neither offended nor unduly disappointed. believe every voter should enter the voting booth untrammelled a free to vote as his conscience dictates. Hence, I would not exact promise to vote for me even from my best friend. "Barkis is willin'." Let the voters decide.

Respectfully,
WILLIAM H. SLATER.

WESTMINSTER HAD ANNUAL MEETING

Reports for Year Show Generous Activity—Debt of $5,000 Paid Off in Record Time

The annual supper for the membership and congregation of Westminster church was held Wednesday night, when reports were made from the various church departments. While it had not been definitely settled that consideration should be given the church debt of $5,000, when the subject was mentioned there was so much enthusiasm for blotting out this debt that within fifteen minutes' time the entire amount had been subscribed. All the reports for the year were indicative of church activity and of generally prosperous conditions under the leadership of Dr. E. B. Landis.

The supper with its chicken pie menu was served by a committee of women of which Mrs. R. R. Stevenson was the chairman. So many tables had been spread and decorated with spring flowers that all of the company could be seated at once. Following the serving of the supper the regular order of business was taken up with Dr. Landis presiding as moderator. The minister gave a very brief review of the year's work. The figures for contributions made indicated most generous response on the part of the members. Dr. Landis said that Westminster people had contributed something more than $6,071 to war work activities and that the goal of approximately $2,000 for the New Era Movement had been reached. Some other facts and figures were also given, all going to prove the affairs of the church are in fine condition thru the generosity and activity of the membership.

Special Reports.
The various department reports that followed had the same general tone as that made by the pastor. Some of the reports were:

Foreign Missions—Miss Hattie Phillips.
Home Missions—Mrs. Enslay Moore.
Guild—Miss Louise Holmes.
Aid Society—Miss Jessie Holmes.
Sunday School Missionary Work—Mrs. R. R. Stevenson.
Sunday School—Miss Marian Updegraff.
Board of Deacons—Prof. J. H. Rayhill.

The Session—W. T. Brown.
Necrology—Enslay Moore.
The report on behalf of the trustees was made by Mrs. G. C. Guthrie as treasurer. It was at the conclusion of this report, which showed the year closed with all bills paid and a balance in the treasury, that the movement to pay off the long standing debt of the church was started. Mrs. Guthrie mentioned that she had written to one of the members of the church who was much of the time out of the city and that he agreed to contribute $900 toward the fund needed if the whole amount could be raised.

This generous start proved inspirational. There was one $1,000 pledge, one for $500, another for $500, one for $300 and other sums of $200, $100, $50, $25 and some smaller amounts. The whole sum was raised with an ease and rapidity which really surprised the assembled company. At the conclusion a vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Guthrie for the manner in which she had brought the debt paying project into notice.

The session closed with the singing of the doxology with a fine enthusiasm, and certainly the meeting was one of the best ever held within the walls of Westminster. Dr. Landis as minister is certainly active in good works and has a united membership behind him.

SCHOOL ELECTIONS NEAR AT HAND

Will be Held in Country Districts April 17th—Member of New District High School Board to be Chosen.

An election for membership in the non-high school district board of education will be held on April 17, the same date on which the school district elections are held thruout the county. Next Saturday will be the last day for filing nominations in the office of Supt. Vasconcellos.

The non-high school board is now made up of Dennis Whalen of Franklin, Dr. R. R. Jones of Woodson and Ora T. Hamm of Concord. Mr. Whalen is the president of the board and Supt. Vasconcellos is the secretary. Under the law all portions of the county not included in high school districts become automatically a part of the non-high school district and a tax is assessed against property therein to pay the high school tuition of pupils who reside in districts where high schools are not maintained.

By this law pupils are entitled to attend a high school and where a high school is not maintained in the district they can go to a school located in some other district and have the tuition paid from this special tax fund. The amount of the general tax for this purpose last year was $10,000. The fund is handled by the county treasurer by virtue of his office.

H. M. CAPPS LIBERTY LOAN CHAIRMAN

Will Manage County Campaign—Organization Now Being Perfected.

The organization for the next Liberty loan campaign is being perfected locally. H. M. Capps will serve as county chairman and various department chairmen will be named in the course of a few days. The general campaign plans, according to Mr. Capps, are quite similar to those employed in previous campaigns.

It will be remembered that in the last campaign that Mr. Capps served as the vice-chairman and made a record which brought the compliments and thanks of the Liberty loan organization. The terms of payment and the interest return for the coming Liberty loan are both generous and not a great deal of trouble in floating the bonds is anticipated.
